

WEEDS, WEEDS, AND MORE TURF WEEDS

As everything begins to green up, weeds become a problem in your lawn. They sprout up everywhere and make your lawn look like a weed explosion! It can be frustrating to see your neighbor's beautiful, green, weed-free lawn while yours looks worse by comparison. But there is a better way to tackle these pesky weeds: post-emergent weed control.

By spraying the weeds with an effective weed killer, you can easily eliminate them within a few weeks. There are plenty of products available in the market for weed control, so make sure to choose one that is meant for your type of lawn grass. Large companies and local garden centers can direct you to good products. For instance, Image All-In-One Weed Killer is a great option that is guaranteed not to burn your lawn and can kill tough weeds like crabgrass, dandelion, nutsedge, clover, and many others. You can apply it easily with a hose-end sprayer, but follow all label instructions when using any product.

Here's another important tip: you can prevent weeds from even germinating by applying a pre-emergent weed control three times a year in February, May, and September. Halts or Preen Lawn are some examples of pre-emergent weed control products that are easy to find.

By using pre-emergent applications, you can prevent weeds from sprouting up and taking over your lawn. This is why your neighbor's lawn is weed-free. By applying the right products and techniques, you can be the yard in the neighborhood with no weeds next year.
